Rymon Road Bridge Closed Over Musconetcong River

(WHITE TOWNSHIP, NJ – April 11, 2019) – Bridge #22025 that carries Rymon Road over the Musconetcong River has been closed due to structural issues found during an inspection today, the Warren County Engineer’s Office announced.

The bridge connects Washington Township, Warren County, with Lebanon Township, Hunterdon County.

The bridge will be closed until necessary repairs are determined and completed.

While an official detour route has yet to be determined, motorists can use the New Hampton Road Bridge to the north or the Route 31 Bridge to the south. The three bridges are all within a miles of each other.
