DESCRIPTION OF SERVICES

Community Health Education: A key component of the health care philosophy of Hackettstown Community Hospital is education. This department provides a wide range of programs from those that teach individuals to cope with illness while living life to its fullest, to those that provide information to help prevent illness. Both types of programs are available to in patients and out patients and are individualized to meet the needs of each participant. All programs utilize the latest information available on each particular topic. Program instructors are trained and certified in their area of expertise and include dietitians, physicians, registered nurses, social workers and many others. Classes include Nutritional Education, Stress Management, Smoking Cessation, Diabetic Counseling, CPR, First Aid, Babysitting Basics and Childbirth Education.
